SENATORIAL CONTENTS.

What is Likely to Occur in Some of the Western States.

THE COMPLICATED SITUATION IN MICHIGAN.

MINNESOTA, NORTH DAKOTA AND WASHINGTON TO RE-ELECT THE PRESENT INCUMBENTS—THE OUTLOOK IN WISCONSIN AND MONTANA.

Julius Caesar Burrows would look well and do well in the Senate. He is an able orator than John J. Ingalls in one particular. He is as effective in argument and always pleasing in manner and address. He carries no rapier nor ever dips his tongue in venom. That he is not unlikely to become a member of the Senate may be inferred from the fact that he is in the state of Michigan. Until very recently it was generally believed that Senator Stockbridge would succeed himself, and that result may yet be achieved by his friends, but since the assembling of Congress it has become manifest that the election of Senator Stockbridge is by no means certain. That there are strong and potential forces in the state which will endeavor to accomplish his defeat is now well known. The plan of his opponents may be briefly stated as follows:

Ex-Congressman Jay A. Hubbell is a candidate and will probably receive the united support of the section known as the upper peninsula, a section comprising the counties of Mackinac, Ontonagon, Chippewa, and Huron. He is represented by Mr. Sam S. Stephenson, who is a member of the legislature, and who is a strong supporter of Hubbell. He fought Hubbell for many years and at great expense, until he managed to break into Congress in spite of Hubbell's efforts. He is a man of high character and for life. Since then Stephenson and Hubbell have been bitter enemies. Hubbell has been a staunch supporter of Stephenson. It would be suicidal for Stephenson to renounce the old warfare with Hubbell which lasted so many years.

STEPHENSON AND STOCKBRIDGE.

Mr. Stephenson is not exactly friendly to Stockbridge. It is alleged that the congressional excursion which enjoyed a trip over the great lakes in '90 was an educational experiment, which resulted in the passage of the recent river and harbor appropriation for a decade. This excursion, which his friends say, was paid for out of Sam Stephenson's pocket book; and which was a great success, and which resulted in the passage of the bill, was a great success. Senator Stockbridge has been a member of the committee on rivers and harbors, and is entitled to credit for the liberal appropriations which were made for the lake and river improvement. He is a man of high character and for life. Since then Stephenson and Hubbell have been bitter enemies. Hubbell has been a staunch supporter of Stephenson. It would be suicidal for Stephenson to renounce the old warfare with Hubbell which lasted so many years.

UNCERTAINTY IN MONTANA.

Montana will elect whom to succeed Col. Sanders. Nobody knows just yet whether the Montana legislature will elect a republican, a democrat or a populist. The new party has been organized in the legislature, and they are trying to balance the power. By uniting with the republicans or with the democrats they will decide who shall succeed the big bluff, Col. Sanders. ALLEN TO AGAIN BE ELECTED.

John B. Allen, formerly Delegate and Representative from the territory and state of Washington, and now a Senator, will undoubtedly succeed himself. He is a western man with eastern manners. He formerly resided in Rochester, Minn., where he taught school for several years. He was elected as a representative in 1877, and was re-elected in 1881, 1885, 1889, 1891, 1893, 1895, 1897, 1899, 1901, 1903, 1905, 1907, 1909, 1911, 1913, 1915, 1917, 1919, 1921, 1923, 1925, 1927,
